DAMAGING FREIGHT WRECK.

Ten Freight Cars Thrown From Track Near Pauls Yesterday.

Yesterday morning as freight train No. 27 southbound on the Santa Fe road was swinging along at a brisk gait and almost ready to show for Pauls, one of the brake beams broke or gave way and caused the derailment of the car. Almost before you could tell it, ten more freight cars were piled upon the side of the track and freight of all description was scattered over a considerable space of ground.

One of the cars was loaded with "Mother's Friend," an oat food, and the product was scattered over several acres. Swift & Co. had two cars of goods in the wreck.

The passenger train had to transfer there yesterday but the track is clear this morning.

Cleanliness is not understood in Tibet. It is neither changed nor washed until it goes to pieces. The man inside the bathrobe takes no better.
